Description

Polychrome and gilded earthenware ceramic on a blackened wooden base. Elegant polychrome earthenware sculpture depicting a young woman leaning on a table, wearing a flowing dress in pastel orange and white tones. The decoration highlights the subtle and refined details, typical of the work of Guido Cacciapuoti, a famous Italian ceramicist. The table is finely decorated with gilding and imitates marble, adding a luxurious touch to the composition. The sculpture rests on a blackened wooden base, which reinforces its prestigious appearance. Signed "Guido Cacciapuoti", Italy, circa 1940-1950, this piece reflects the classic style and elegance of the late Art Deco period. A magnificent decorative object for lovers of Italian ceramics and collectors.
