Description

Very elegant twisted chocolate pot in flamboyant Louis XV style in solid 950% silver. It rests on three pretty feet and the fretel in the shape of a blooming rose of its lid pivots to allow the installation of a frother or mixing stick. The side handle in turned ebony is slightly twisted and carved with rockery to match perfectly with its resolutely baroque jug. The turned wooden frother that you see in some photos is not included in the price. The chocolate pot is quite heavy given its size. It weighs a very generous 1070 grams.
