Description

Large silver and rosewood easel dressing/boudoir mirror. The mirror is beveled, surrounded by an openwork frame with symmetrical and harmonious curves. The edge of the frame on its face is decorated with repoussé rocaille vagelettes, chiseled guilloché with twisted striations and surrounded by a pearl necklace on the lower side. The top of the mirror is decorated with a bare relief of athenian leaves and volutes which surround a curved oval shield engraved with a coat of arms under a comte crown. The rear part is equipped with a movable metal support which allows you to select the different positions of the mirror surface or to find a fixed position. France, 19th century, Louis XV style, 950/1000 silver, Minerva hallmarks Master
