

A Good And Strong Wood Model Of A Toad Squatting. Okimono, Sculpture, Japan, Edo, 19th Century

3 500 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Parfait état

Material : Solid wood

Length : 10

Height : 5

Description

A good and strong model of a toad squatting in the usual position as if about to leap, the body well carved, with its feet folded beneath and its knobby skin. the eyes inlaid with brown horn. Nice color with a beautiful patina. Edo, 19th century.

Dealer

Reflets des Arts

Japanese works of Art

Tel : +33 (0)6 21 32 20 24

42 rue de Verneuil

Paris 75007