Description

This portrait of a grenadier is beautifully lit, in fact, the soldier is reading a letter by the light of an oil lamp. The whole thing was done by Marius Roy. Marius Roy (1853-1921) is a French painter specializing in the representation of military scenes in an academic style. He strives to depict a more human, almost social vision of the soldier by making the representation of a soldier's daily life real military genre scenes. The work has been restored and cleaned, it is in good general condition. We report traces of wear and classic friction on an old painting. Our photos allow you to appreciate the quality of the work. For the condition, please detail the photos. Do not hesitate to zoom. The photos are an integral part of the description. Dimensions: Height: 62 cm

Width: 38.7 cm Thickness: 2 cm A5231
