Description

Carpet after the work of Joan Miró
Titled : "Upside-down"
Joan Miró is a Spanish painter, sculptor and ceramist, considered a major player in Modern Art. Attracted by the artistic community gathered in Montparnasse, he met the Dada movement in 1920. Under the influence of surrealist poets and writers, he developed his unique style from 1924, a geography of colorful signs and weightless poetic forms placed under the double sign of a freshness of falsely naïve invention and the exuberant and baroque Catalan spirit. Hand-knotted in Merino wool. Very beautiful quality of wool. Size : 250x200 cm
Condition : good condition*Photos on request
