Description

Beautiful little bronze, old edition, beautiful carving and pretty brown patina. It represents a rabbit emerging from behind a hollowed-out tree trunk.

This is a model by Auguste Cain (1821 - 1894), French animal sculptor.

We can feel in his animal inspiration the influence of the sculptor Pierre Jules Mène whose daughter he married.

The list of works by Auguste Cain published by Susse Frère is reproduced in the book by Pierre Kjelleberg "Les bronzes du XIXe siècle".

Our bronze is referenced there under the n° 43 as "Lapin surpris, Portes allumettes".

Signed "Cain" on the terrace, without foundry stamp.

Old edition from the 19th century
