Description

We are pleased to present this exquisite set of three pendant lamps, made in Italy circa 1960. These lamps feature a beautifully patinated brass frame paired with elegant glass bowls. They come with one bulb each. Although they do not feature any identifiable marks or signatures, the quality of the materials and the design suggest an attribution to the renowned works of Luigi Caccia Dominioni for Azucena. The craftsmanship and aesthetic appeal are evident, making them a standout set in any collection. The lamps are in perfect condition and have been rewired for safety and functionality. They are ideal for placing in a long hallway, a spacious entryway or any room that requires a cohesive lighting style. These pendant lamps will make a beautiful addition to your modern decor, infusing your
