Description

These 2 watercolors represent scenes from the life of Mary. The 2 sketches could be the preparatory drawings for the stained glass windows of the Como Cathedral, by Giuseppe Bertini.

The image shows the Virgin Mary and Saint Joseph standing in front of the altar, exchanging wedding rings. The scene is set inside a church, with Gothic architecture characterized by pointed arches and stained glass windows. The two main characters are dressed in traditional clothes of their time: Mary wears the classic blue cloak.
