Description

Kashan rug in hand-knotted kork wool in Iran around 1980, measuring 146 cm wide by 192 cm long.

This beautiful model with niche and bouquets of flowers, has a highly worked decoration.

A pretty landscape in the center in a polylobed medallion presents swans swimming in front of a palace;

Many trees of life, bouquets of flowers, birds, embellish the decor and also embellish the border.

The whole is perfect in its composition and the greatest care has therefore been taken with the very beautiful border.

These rugs are intended for floor and wall decoration in Iranian homes, giving a vision of happiness, joy and an idea of paradise on earth.

The general condition is perfect, there is no reduction in pile, the fine kerk wool used is of first quality, very good edges and fringes.

The colors are fresh, soft and delicate.

The deep shades, wine lees, blue, green, orange, red ..... blend perfectly with ivory.

A carpet, with the most beautiful effect. Kashan (Kachan, Keshan):

large city in the center of Iran. At the time of the Persian renaissance, Kashan was the center of carpet production of legendary splendor.

Carpets with fine weaving, of a very rich composition, were knotted by the royal factory of Shah Abbas.

They have become the centerpieces of museums and private collections.

Craftsmanship was interrupted in Kashan between the invasion of the Afghans (1722) and the end of the 19th century.

The revival of carpet production began with carpets that are distinguished by the superior quality of the wool giving an extremely velvety appearance. These examples are called Kashan Motashemi, from the name of the most famous master weaver of the end of the 19th century.

The decorations are varied and offer a meticulous invoice: hunting scenes, subjects with figures inspired by Persian mythology, birds in a plant decor, trees of life.

Thanks to the superior quality of the wool, their tight knotting, the beauty of their natural colors and their designs, the Kashan took their place among the best Persian carpets.

I invite you to look at our Proantic gallery where we offer many semi-antique carpets and antique carpets;

This carpet has been professionally and ecologically cleaned.
