Description

Center triclinium sofa, made of mahogany and padded with black horsehair fabric. The saber feet are carved with a lion's paw wrapped in acanthus leaves from which a scroll decorated with rosettes and bellflowers emerges; the frontal pillar of the highest side develops into a lion's protome with an acanthus leaf on the neck; the shaped reredos is also enriched with rosettes and has a refined fern carved on the curve of the curl; the bands have simple embossed plates. Original horsehair padding with two cushions, one cylindrical.
