Description

Watercolor or gouache representing the cucifixion of Christ, at his feet the attributes of the Passion (crown of thorns, pincers and hammer), the tempting serpent coiled on the cross, in the background we can see the walls of Jerusalem, annotation "Given to Mr Ramon by his third-year students in 1821", dated "Este Pinxit 1821), from the early 19th century. This watercolor is in good condition, it is under glass. We can assume that it is a gift from art students to their teacher. Please note: some accidents and losses on the gilded wooden frame, wear and tear, see photos.
