Description

This magnificent porcelain box dates from the 19th century and is in the Louis XV style, characterized by its elegant curves, refined gilded ornaments and bucolic scenes inspired by French Rococo. The piece is finely decorated with a celestial blue enamel embellished with rich chiseled gilding highlights. The lid is decorated with a hand-painted gallant scene, representing a couple in a romantic landscape. The body of the box is embellished with delicately painted floral garlands and framed with raised gilded motifs, giving the whole a great finesse and exceptional brilliance. The finely chiseled gilded bronze mount highlights the refinement and artisanal quality of this piece. This precious box is a testimony to the exceptional know-how of the artisans, constitutes a remarkable collector's item,
