Description

Superb pair of Murano crystal and patinated spelter cones, 42 cm high, representing graceful putti carrying large blown glass corollas, finely shaped in the shape of a calla in shades of green and yellow. The spelter base is richly decorated with rocaille motifs, typical of the Art Nouveau style, creating a harmonious contrast between the robustness of the metal and the delicacy of Venetian glass. An exceptional work combining the know-how of bronze and the elegance of Murano crystal, ideal for lovers of refined decorative objects.
