Description

This Art Deco pitcher by Charles Schneider is an elegant piece in orange-brown marbled glass, typical of the expertise of French glassmakers from the early 20th century. With a height of 21 cm, it features a design that is both fluid and structured, characterized by its dynamic curves and its warm shade with marbled effects. Its serpentine handle, applied hot by stretching the glass, brings a distinctive sculptural touch, contrasting with the softness of the body of the pitcher. The finely worked spout extends this refined aesthetic. In excellent condition, this rare and collectible piece is made for you! Charles Schneider (signature on the body) Excellent condition!
