Description

Pair of wall lights that were installed in the Chaville cinema in the 1940s..(I took them apart myself)(Achille & Pier Castiglioni wall lights 'Sputnik' pour Stilnovo)They are made of varnished brass and black painted iron. Black and gray alternate on the cones at the top of the round brass rods. The wall light is star-shaped topped with a dome that serves as a junction box where the round rods and three bronze lightning bolts are fixed, two towards the bottom and a larger one towards the top. The electrification has been completely redone. Balls are provided to install them at the top of the cones.
