the painter and preacher Nils Wallin (1911-1987) and his mother Astrid Wallin née Andersson (1908-1992). Vallien worked as a decorator in the PUB stora department and as an apprentice painter in his father's company, and it was during this time that he decided he wanted to become an artist. He applied and was accepted to the Konstfack art school in 1956. After two years, he decided to study ceramics as well, graduating in 1961. He then moved to California and studied at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles. After returning to Sweden in 1963, Vallien found a job at Boda Glasbruk and began working as a glass artist and designer for the company's centenary. In 2012, he was still working in the industry but at the Kosta Boda glassworks. Diameter at the neck: 22 cm
