Period : 19th century

Description

Infant paper dolls from that generation often associate the baby with the mother or nanny, together with pram, bathing tub, crib or stroller... like in this German printed and cut-out set "Unser Baby und seine Ausstattung", a colorful hard cardboard example, which also includes the figure of the Nanny. This set is particularly thrilling because it includes, printed on the inside of the cardboard envelope, the sketches of the various elements featured in the set, an ideal reference to spot missing pieces, eventually.
This set is not complete, 3 bonnets and a red velvet cape for the baby are missing.
Unfortunately, the baby's feet are cut and his neck is very frail.
