

Archaic Tripod Incense Burner - China 17th Century Circa 1640

1 600 EUR

Period : 17th century

Condition : Etat d'usage

Material : Porcelain

Diameter : 10,2cm

Height : 7,2cm

Description

An Archaic shape tripod incense burner in "Blanc de Chine" porcelain. A frieze is incised in the central part, alternating with "Kui" dragons, notable creamy glaze.

China 17th

Late Ming Dynasty Circa 1640

Diameter: 10,3cm

Height : 7,2cm

For a similar model, see

- Marchant, Exhibition of Blanc de Chine 2014,

Fig 88, p.116

- Dehua Wares Collected by the Palace Museum,

Vol.1, Fig 102, 103, 104 p.251-252-253

Dealer

Galerie Drake

Chinese Porcelain & Chinese Works of Art

Mobile : 0689483023

Paris 75011

- Blanc de Chine, Donnelly, 1969, 19, B.
- Marchant, Exhibition of Blanc de Chine 2006, Fig.75, 75a
- Blanc de Chine, Porcelain From Dehua, Rose Kehr & John Ayers, Hickley collection, Fig 77 (Published in Rinaldi, 1993)

The ends of the three legs are missing in part and chipped, a chip on the neck on the outside and two small chips on the inside. Some firing cracks.

More information and photos on request.