Description

Console from the 1900s, which can be used as a desk. Resting on four porcelain casters, the tubular base is joined by a U-shaped spacer which gives it excellent stability, it is possible to insert a chair underneath! The ornate belt on the four sides allows it to be positioned either against a wall or in the middle of a room, with a storage drawer on the front with a pretty chiseled pull button. Topped with a white onyx top with a quarter-round groove around the edge. Very good general condition, no missing parts, the top is neither broken nor restored!
