Description

An oversized late 20th-century Italian lounge armchair, exquisitely crafted from brown and white cow fur leather. This statement piece features a generous loose squared cushion and two tubular-shaped cushions, all upholstered in luxurious cow fur leather, providing both comfort and style. The armchair stands on four large wooden bun feet, adding a touch of elegance to its modern design. This lounge armchair is perfect for contemporary spaces, particularly in a mountain chalet, where it can create an inviting, warm, and cozy atmosphere. Its clean lines and solid frame make it a versatile addition to any modern decor. While the overall condition is good, there is some wear on the front large square cushion, where a small patch of fur is missing; however, these imperfections are not immediately
