Description

This enameled candy box is set with gilded bronze inserts with small decorative effects such as twists and streaks punctuated by "pearls", it rests on three ball feet. In opaque navy blue glass, this candy box is decorated with flowers placed in white enamel and its lid in convex clear glass. A 19th century work whose technique recalls that used for the so-called "Mary Gregory" objects with more or less thickness of the enamel to play on the intensity thanks to the transparency.
