Description

Glazed ceramic in natural tones, this vase with a rounded silhouette is decorated with a relief decoration representing a stylized face and a central floral motif in a medallion. Typical of the work of Jacques Pouchain and the Dieulefit workshop, this piece illustrates his artistic approach mixing abstraction and figuration, characteristic of French ceramics of the 1970s.Jacques Pouchain (1925-2015) is a leading figure in 20th century French ceramics. Based in Dieulefit, in the Drôme, he developed a unique style where refined forms and graphic motifs meet. Through his works, he explores a balance between utilitarian and sculpture, influenced by the spirit of modernity and the revival of post-war craftsmanship. His creations are today sought after for their sensitivity and timeless character.
