Description

The pendant is composed of a fragment of antique porcelain from the 18th century, carefully selected for its finesse and elegance. Its decoration represents a bird with flamboyant plumage, in shades of red, yellow and black, perched on a branch decorated with green foliage and small purple flowers. The medallion is set in a gilded brass frame, which harmoniously matches its rounded shape and gives it a touch of warmth and refinement. The bail, also in gilded brass, is finely worked to ensure a solid and fluid attachment to the chain. The twisted chain brings a vintage charm, in perfect harmony with the timeless and delicate style of the pendant.
