Condition : Bon état

Material : Solid wood

Description

Late 19th century France - Auvergne - Haute-Loire This finely carved wooden lacemaker's box features a rich and symbolic decoration, combining central rosettes and stylized monstrances engraved in hollow, in a typically rural style. The lid is decorated with a large radiant rosette, a solar motif omnipresent in Auvergne folk art, framed by geometric friezes. The front is decorated with a more complex rosette around the lock, framed by two large monstrances engraved in a triangle, recalling the symbols of protection and religious influences dear to the world of lacemakers. A rare and touching detail: inside the back panel, we can see two engraved axes, preparatory sketches left voluntarily or not by the craftsman, moving traces of the work in progress. The box retains its
