Description

Small roof box with remains of polychromy, 16th century.
Rectangular box with a roof-shaped lid, which gives its name to this typology, very common in the Gothic period. The shield and the bolt are old, although they do not date from the 16th century like the rest of the work. It should be noted that it retains part of the original polychromy: green on the outside and red on the inside. -
Dimensions: 25.5x18x22 cm
