Description

A series of twelve large table knives...

A classic model...!

They can easily be combined with cutlery with fillets or old Paris...

The blades are made of steel treated as chrome...

The ferrules and the cartouche are made of solid silver...

The ferrules are with slight differences certainly due to the fact that they are not molded...!

And some have suffered a little...

And again it is not much...!

Not controlled because they are too small pieces...

From the beginning of the 19th century, around 1830...

The handles are made of carved ebony...

Are not cracked...

In addition they are of very good quality...

Very fat in terms of thickness and width...

The blades have several stamps but from the same silversmith...
