Belgian painter and draftsman. Student at Saint-Luc in Schaerbeek and at the Louvain Academy, of which he became director from 1959 to 1979. Prix de Rome in 1946. Traveled to Yugoslavia, Japan, Mexico, and Spain. Illustrator of literary texts and author of several graphic editions. He reached the limits of abstraction in the second half of the 1960s, but never took the final, definitive step. Narrative elements increased significantly in his paintings. This narrative tendency culminated in his well-known stacking constructions: single and multiple compartments,
