Description

Art Deco chest of drawers. Architectural piece of furniture built as if it were a boat with sides that rise in the center and are rounded at the base, like the front, resting on two plinths decorated with ebonized stars and resting on four ebonized spheres. On the top there are risers with shelves supported by spheres. On the front there are, hidden in the architecture by two doors, three small drawers on the left and three larger ones on the opposite side. The entire surface is veneered in walnut root with striped walnut borders, decorative walnut frames and ebonized parts.
