Description

A sublime pair of Napoleon III period corner cabinets, made of veneered wood richly inlaid with bouquets of flowers in finely executed vases. The marquetry, of great finesse, highlights contrasting precious wood species, enhancing the delicate and elegant floral composition. The gilt bronze ornamentation completes the aesthetics of these pieces of furniture, with refined appliques at the corners, finely chiseled falls and neat frames. The top is in white marble, offering an additional touch of luxury and refinement. These corner cabinets, resting on small elegantly turned feet, have a curved shape and harmonious lines, testifying to the exceptional know-how of 19th century cabinetmakers.
