Description

Important building movement, probably from a church, in its original cabinet. It is in working order, with its pendulum and its two weights. We also have the elements allowing it to be connected to the dial of the bell tower. Original identification plate. The cabinet which contains it is lacquered in its original gray, it has two doors, one of which is double-leaf. Possibility of dismantling the movement for easier transport. Period early 20th century, dated 1911. Rare piece in superb condition.
