Description

This exquisite Louis XIV style chest of drawers, crafted in Italy during the latter half of the 20th century, is a stunning addition to any interior. Constructed from walnut veneer, it features intricate briar and maple inlays that enhance the natural beauty of the wood grain, creating a visually striking effect. The chest's majestic presence is highlighted by its wavy front, which adds an element of allure. The upper section boasts a unique design, with two small drawers on either side and a central fold-down top that reveals a convenient writing desk--perfect for jotting down notes or providing a surface for document consultations. Inside, you'll find four additional small drawers, offering even more organizational options. The lower portion of the chest features three spacious drawers, providing
