Description

Remarkable Impressionist Work from the end of the 19th century this walk in the Parc de l'Observatoire in Toulouse invites us to relax. A lively and well-composed work where under the beneficial shade an open kiosk serves drinks or an elegant lady and her child ask for a drink from a lady behind her counter, two others rest on chairs, while an elegant man with a hat and cane holds the pose, further to the left a man in a boater sitting on a bench strikes the pose, two ladies with a pram and umbrella walk, in the distance closed by a large wall an animation with characters and a carriage, other people occupy the ground and give a lively and gentle atmosphere of relaxation; it is necessary because the bright sun shines through the shade punctuating the scene with bright spots, a beautiful pictorial material
