Description

Sorry, No Airmail Export for this.Very beautiful object for a pampered child, a model of iron and cast iron stove, like a large one, all doors, grill, oven, ashtray, top of piano are functional, complete and without flaw, (but we do not have the stove pipe) Well maintained by the previous collector, it is "all clean". This type of small stove was sometimes used to decide customers to take a large one, we saw them at period in the windows of chimney sweeps or "department stores" This model from plain folded and riveted iron is distinguished by those pretty cast iron reliefs, the quality of beveled iron doors and drawers, riveted on forged reinforcements, the small brass balls opening or half-opening oven door, and this pretty cutout on bottom. There is no visible mark. French toy, iron, 2nd half of the 19th century,
