Description

FOLK ART Early 19th century, or late 18th century Superb and large carved wooden MORTAR, MONOXYLE, on a pedestal, accompanied by ITS PILON Decoration engraved in the wood on the back side : * of the initial B (reference to the name of its former owner?), * a large heart with 3 points in its center, * and a cross in an architectural reserve, like a church quickly sketched . The main façade depicts an amusing scene from the MASSTER / TRAINER OF ANIMALS, a figure in the center standing in front of him seeming to hold or contain 2 animals, one on each side. The circular borders and some contours of the drawings are frequently serrated in a rather primitive way. Will we notice the VERY NAÏVE STYLE of the drawings Ardèche, Auvergne or Savoie / Alpes' mountains
