Description

Oil on canvas "The cook in the pantry" signed lower right MF Jacomin. French school. 74.7 X 102 cm. Marie-Ferdinand Jacomin (1843-1902) exhibited at the Salon from 1870. The painter lived in Saint-Germain en Laye and very often walked the paths of the forest of Saint-Germain, immortalizing the undergrowth, trees and clearings that he visited. By his subjects, his compositions and his technique, we can say that he is an important player in the Barbizon School. The Museums of Pau, Dieppe and Saint-Omer as well as the Museum of Modern Art in Paris hold some of his works. Sources Bénézit: dictionary of painters and sculptors. Unframed. Two old restorations.
