Description

This butcher's block made by the X. Aubert factories in Dijon is a solid beech piece of furniture, designed to be sturdy and durable. It has a thick cutting surface and dovetail joints. Each corner is reinforced with metal plates for added strength. A metal plate in the center of the front panel bears the inscription "USINES X.AUBERT Matériel & Fournitures DIJON". The block rests on four solid wooden uprights, with wide decorative fluting reminiscent of the Art Deco movement. There is also an open storage area under the cutting surface, ideal for storing butchery tools or accessories. A unique piece of furniture that follows the current trend. *Period: 1950Excellent condition after restoration in our workshop.Waxed finish.Delivery on quotation in France and
