Description

Trio of Hollywood Regency wall lights - Horse heads and opaline glass globe Superb set of three wall lights in the Hollywood Regency style, from the 1950s-60s. Each wall light is composed of a horse head sculpted in gilded metal, with an elegant and expressive design, topped with a white opaline glass globe diffusing a soft and warm light. Thanks to their size and finish, these wall lights are ideal for structuring a wall, framing a mirror or highlighting an entrance. In very good vintage condition, with a beautiful patina on the metal and some traces of time. Electrification to be done (wires visible at the back).
