Description

Louis XVI period secretary in mahogany with brass beading and inlaid fillets. This piece of furniture has its clover key with a flap with a three-point lock. We have retained its original leather which is in very good condition. It opens onto a theater of ten drawers also in mahogany mounted on oak. The lower part with a door reveals a larger drawer. Exceptional quality of cabinetmaking for this gallery secretary with its corner scrapers. Very rare and perfectly restored piece of furniture.
