Description

- Fragment of a tapestry, weaving from a Brussels workshop around the middle of the 16th century. This weaving depicts a landscape with abundant vegetation, it is similar to a Verdure. Among the many plants reminiscent of mille-fleurs, stands the attack of a rabbit by what seems to be a wolf.

- This fragment is similar to the production of Brussels workshops from the middle of the 16th century. This is evidenced by the theme, the careful design, the beautiful fineness of the weaving (7 threads/cm) which offers a supple textile, the materials used (wool and silk) and the colors whose freshness suggests the use of great dyes.

- State of conservation: wear and old restorations are to be noted (see photos).

- Dimensions: Height: 40 cm, Width: 90 cm
