Description

Small Louis XV period chest of drawers in solid walnut. This curved model is made of natural wood and has survived the years without damage. The sides are mounted on a flat strip, the lower crosspieces are cut and fretworked. The front is curved and decorated with original bronze handles and entries. The front uprigths are rounded, with raised decorations in the mass and end with snail feet. The front crosspiece is carved with a scallop shell: characteristic of the Louis XV period. The top is delimited by a corbin beak. This piece of furniture is entirely original. L 108 cm H 81 cm D 61 cm Delivery included for France
