Description

Antique bust in bronze with green patina. Work of the artist Igor Mitoraj (1944-2014). Rests on its original travertine base. Signed and numbered B4/1000 HC46.5cm high. Very beautiful nuanced patina. Work titled Asclepius from the name of the god of medicine who resurrected the dead. On the chest, a tenon recalls a trace of construction as on a marble like that holding the hand of Michelangelo's David. A little lower, a window opens onto a heart, reminding us that behind the memory of a body frozen in bronze, we must remember the living heart of humanity
