Description

This 19th century Louis-Philippe style mirror features a black patina painted wooden frame, highlighted by a lightly textured silver frieze decoration. The antique mercury glass retains its authenticity with some marks of time, adding charm to the whole. The mirror is framed with a thin row of pearls that discreetly accentuates the relief and finesse of the frame. Its dimensions are 50 cm wide, 62 cm high and 2 cm thick, making it an ideal size to hang in an entrance hall, living room or bedroom, bringing a touch of elegance and authenticity to the decoration.
