Set Of 3 Display Cases, Mummified Chameleon And Scorpions

250 EUR

Period : 21st century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Other

Description

An extraordinary set of three glass cases containing two exotic scorpions and a mummified chameleon, perfect for collectors of natural curiosities, entomology enthusiasts and lovers of the unusual.Set contents:- Hottentotta tamulus scorpion - (Case size: 13 × 7 × 2.5 cm) This scorpion, also known as the "Indian red scorpion", is one of the most feared of its kind due to its highly potent venom. Found in India and Sri Lanka, it is often associated with local myths and shamanic beliefs.- Androctonus amoreuxi scorpion - (Case size: 12.5 × 4 × 6 cm) Also known as the "Tunisian scorpion", it is part of the genus Androctonus, whose name means "Man-killer" in ancient Greek. This species, widespread in North Africa and the Middle East, is a formidable predator and adapted to extreme

Dealer

Mundi Wunderkammer
Curiosities, Antiquities and Oddities
Tel : 3405609182
Mobile : 3405609182

Via Tetto Nuovo 22 A Torino 10025

desert climates.- Mummified Chameleon - (Dim. case: 15 × 4 × 6.5 cm) A dried specimen of chameleon, a reptile symbol of adaptability and transformation. In many cultures, the chameleon has been considered a mystical creature, associated with the ability to see the future or to move between different worlds. Ancient Egypt and other African traditions considered it an intermediary between heaven and earth.Good condition, as shown in the photos, it should be noted that the cases are evidently handcrafted and the glass is not melted.International shipping available. Each piece is carefully packaged to ensure safe delivery.IMPORTANT! Custom shipping: Contact us with your location and we will find the most convenient shipping option for you. Fixed rates may vary based on your area and by calculating shipping based on your address we can offer the best price for your purchase.