Description

Small equestrian sculpture, Jockey on his horse jumping the obstacle in Bronze & Walnut from the 19th century Beautiful bronze sculpture with brown patina The jockey's body is mobile at the nut level It is in good condition, the barrier is twisted but I think that this is original, the sculpture is very stable Some wear from use to the patina, perhaps a bridle is missing linking the jockey's hand to the horse's head, a small hole in his left hand suggests this. Length: 10cm Height: 8cm Weight: 199.38g
