Description

This remarkable cartel clock is made of Boulle marquetry in five colors: green, red, blue, yellow and mother-of-pearl horn, on a polished brass background. It is decorated with rich and fine ornamentation in chased bronze, representing a caduceus (attribute of the god Hermes), a quiver, a flower pot and laurel garlands. The upper and lower frames of this exceptional cartel clock are stamped respectively J. JOLLAIN, received master in Paris on August 1, 1763. Adrien-Jérôme JOLLAIN, from a family of clockmakers, is mainly known for his clock cases. Several are known decorated with cube and flower marquetry, or Martin varnish with floral decoration, but those in Boulle marquetry in five colors are rarer. An exceptional cartel clock, as much for its beauty, the richness of its colors, as
