Description

A fluted decoration for these blown glass and églomisé candlesticks in the Louis XVI style dating from the second half of the 19th century. The mercury tin being fixed inside these candlesticks, this presents a certain fragility as you can imagine, so there are some small gaps or weaknesses here and there but nothing serious, except that we can consider this as an additional soul to these creations so delicate and poetic. The jealous call this the silverware of the poor. Ah, these jealous people are very poor in spirit! Shipping in France and internationally, contact me for terms
