Marble Sculptures After Michelangelo Buonarroti - "day" And "night" - Early 20th Century

5 498 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Marble

Description

Magnificent pair of large marble sculptures, inspired by Michelangelo Buonarroti's masterpieces "Day" and "Night", originally located in the Medici Chapel in Florence. These pieces are faithful interpretations made in the early 1900s, showcasing exceptional craftsmanship. Each sculpture is executed in a striking combination of white Carrara marble and red marble, enhancing their dramatic presence and sculptural contrast. The sculptures show minor losses or restorations, typical of their age (please refer to the photos for details), but overall they remain in very good decorative condition. Dimensions (each sculpture): 60 x 50 x 30 cm A stunning and timeless tribute to one of the greatest artists of the Renaissance, perfect for classical interiors or fine art collections.
