Description

Exceptional set of 29 original hand-cut and hand-painted wooden figurines from the famous "Hunts of Caran d'Ache", designed by the artist and caricaturist Emmanuel Poiré (known as Caran d'Ache) around 1907. Each piece testifies to the satirical humor and unique talent of Caran d'Ache, who depicted with finesse and mischief the great European political figures of the Belle Époque through animated hunting scenes. This rare set includes characters, animals and decorative elements, all created with remarkable artistic quality and a keen sense of caricature. The remarkably preserved colors bring an incomparable authenticity to this set. These artist's toys, published at the time in very limited series, are today particularly sought after by informed collectors of folk art, antique objects
