Description

Lovely Quilted Blanket - 19th Century Period
Superb antique quilted blanket, an authentic testament to 19th century textile expertise, it comes from a beautiful residence in the Bordeaux region. This type of piece, highly valued for its softness and aesthetics, was commonly used in bourgeois interiors to bring warmth and elegance.
Detailed characteristics: Period: 19th century
Style: Sober, classic and refined Main face: A regular pattern of blue and beige vertical stripes, with a clean and balanced graphic design. The alternation of these colors gives it a rustic and highly decorative appearance, typical of 19th century household fabrics. Secondary face: Plain beige canvas, more neutral, allowing the blanket to be adapted to different atmospheres depending on the visible face. Quilting: Fine stitching visible
